DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Gussie Kent house is a small, gable-roofed double-pen log structure standing one story high. The finished loft space adds to the living area. The three-bay-long dwelling is heated by an interior brick chimney in the west end. The exterior eastern chimney has collapsed.

Either side of the house is pierced by a central batten door. The windows, now gone, may have been six over six sash. Either gable end of the loft retains remnants of a pair of four over two sash windows.

A deteriorating wood shingle roof covers the house. Feather-edged lapped weatherboards sheath the gables, while once-whitewashed vertical boards cover the walls.

The central hall contains a winding boxed stair in its northwest corner. One room appears to either side of the hall on each floor. Construction members are hewn and straight-sawn.

A small log tobacco barn stands north of the house. (See measured drawings and notes.
